

195

1st Parthian expedition

Summer 195

Severus led an expedition into northern Mesopotamia to punish the Parthians for their support of Niger and his fugitives.

c. 195

Emperor Valerian served as consul in the 230s and became a leading supporter of the Gordian rebellion in 238. He held high office under later emperors, being entrusted with a major military command by Gallus just before the latter's death.

c195

Valerian was born (place unknown)

195-

1st Parthian War

The first led to the creation of the new Roman province of OSRHODENE.